MINERS OF OHIO WILL NOT BACK NEW NATIONAL LABOR PARTY

Byesville Delegate's Plan For Condemnation of the Old Parties Fails

CONFERENCE ADJOURNS Advertising Campaign of Propaganda Discussed in Miners' Interest

COLUMBUS, O., March 6.—The closing session of the annual convention of the Ohio United Mine Workers here was marked by the overwhelming defeat of the proposal that the miners condemn the Republican and Democratic parties and support the new national labor party. This action was taken when the delegates turned down a resolution offered by Delegate G. W. Eubanks, of Byesville, Guernsey co.

The delegates registered protests against the federal government for preventing the miners, thru the Indianapolis injunction, from using their strike funds during the coal strike last fall, and against the Graham Sedition bill, now pending in congress.

With a view to offsetting alleged misrepresentations of miners' wages and living conditions, the state organization of miners propose launching an advertising campaign. Delegates accused United States Senator Pomerehne and other public officials of making statements detrimental to labor's interests and starting public antagonism against the miners.

Resolutions adopted opposed a state constabulary, urged a referendum of the district constituents to influence the vote of congressmen on national issues and advocated initiation of an old age pension bill which would provide the necessary revenue from excessive incomes and large inherited fortunes.

The contract for the erection of a new cow barn at the fair grounds was awarded Saturday to A. G. Cookesey and Eugene Cox at their bid of $2,477.29 by the executive committee of the Agricultural society, composed of S. F. Dawson, L. J. Foster and Noah Barrett.

The building is to be 28 feet wide and 130 feet long and will be located between the sheep and cattle barns. The other bids received were: W. H. Sauerbrey, $3,952.25; John M. Shaw, $2,550; George Denzer, $2,972.25.

MOLDERS FORM A UNION FRIDAY AT LOCAL LABOR HALL

One hundred per cent organization of molders and core makers of the James B. Clow & Sons plant was effected at the meeting for this purpose Friday night at the Central Trades and Labor Council hall. Fifty men attended the meeting, which was presided over by Robert Greyson, organizer for the international Molders' Union of North America, whose home is in Cincinnati.

It was declared following the meeting that more than a dozen core makers at the local plant, which is closed down indefinitely, will leave the city after the next meeting of the union formed Friday night. Mr. Greyson informed the men at the meeting Friday night that he could supply employment to all men who are out of work at the local plant. He told the local men that one hundred men can be used at Zanesville, Denison and Medina plants.

No officers were elected at the meeting Friday night. This will be accomplished at the next meeting, which will be called by Mr. Greyson. Each new member paid an initiation fee of $5.

Robert Brooks was arraigned before Mayor W. S. Tish on a second charge of Gambling Saturday afternoon. The affidavit was filed under the state law. Brooks pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs. He was fined $30 and costs Friday on a similar charge under the city ordinance.

DETECTIVES HERE TO CLEAN UP CITY OF GAMBLING VICE

Woman Sleuth Deplores Unexpected Turn That Cost Officer $105

Mrs. D. Mockler, manager of the Mockler Detective Bureau, Columbus, who came to Coshocton recently with some of her assistants for the purpose of ridding the city of gambling and other vices, stated Saturday that never in her 27 years' experience in the detective business has anything so unjust happened as the affair pulled off when one of her assistants, Frank Broad, was assessed $105.50, while a professional gambler with no occupation whatever can come here and gamble and take people's money and get away with a fine of $33.

She denies that Frank Broad, her assistant, went to the Barnes hotel, with the intention of soliciting men to gamble. She says his intention was to get evidence that Robert Brooks, a professional gambler, was playing in Coshocton. She says that it was W. Q. Barnes who filed the charge against Broad in the court of R. B. McDermott, who frequents the Barnes hotel.

She is of the opinion that the threat she made after she paid her assistant's fine as she was leaving Justice McDermott's court, that she would get the gang on a second charge, must have been reported to Barnes and caused her to be defeated in her purpose.

Mrs. Mockler claims to have evidence that I. W. Powell, New York, who filed the affidavits in Justice Abbott's court against Barnes and Duxton to prevent them being brought into Mayor Tish's court on the same charge, is a gambler himself.

With reference to Justice McDermott's statement that a police officer should be able to catch poker players without the necessity of a detective playing in the game, she says it would be an impossible thing for the police to do so when it could not be done with her assistant playing in the game, as a tip was given out a half hour ahead by someone.

She says that Chief Mapel and his men are doing all they can but they are known to the gamblers and it's impossible for them to catch the players in the act. She says the poker room at the Barnes hotel is like New York gambling houses and when the officers rapped at the door leading from the pool room they found the door bolted. She says there are four entrances to the poker room.

Mrs. Mockler says a wealthy person in the city asked her to come here and she asks the co-operation of all people who want to see the city cleaned up. She wants to be helped rather than condemned.

She wears a badge which she states was presented to her by Mark Hanna for special services performed for President McKinley in the city of Montreal, Canada. She expects to be in the city a couple of weeks.

MCCLEARY HOME AT LAFAYETTE BADLY DAMAGED BY FIRE

The residence of Henry McCleary in West Lafayette was badly damaged Thursday afternoon by a fire resulting from a defective chimney. The fire broke out in the dining room and spread to the upstairs doing considerable damage in the bedrooms.

Mrs. McCleary, who was just outside the house, discovered the flames when she came in and spread the alarm. Neighbors assisted the village fire department in extinguishing the fire. The loss is estimated at $500, partly covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. McCleary are still living in the house but the children are being kept at night at the home of their uncle, John McCleary, until the damaged home is repaired.

SERIOUSLY ILL
J. B. Davis, south Sixth-st., has been seriously ill at his home on south Sixth-st for several days.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—Restraint of Director General Hines "in continuing to interfere, in an illegal way, with the orderly distribution of coal," was asked in a suit filed in the supreme court of the District of Columbia by Noah H. Swayne, of Philadelphia, and president of the American Wholesale Coal Association. Other companies joining in the suit are the Pine Ridge Coal Co., of Michigan and Coale and Co. Merchants at Baltimore.

The allegation is made in the suit that the president's control over coal, granted by the Lever law, has been "delegated and redelegated so many times" that the coal industry is no longer regulated by the government in the public interests.

"Anyone who uses coal and wants to confiscate what he wants, can get and use the president's powers under the Lever law," it is alleged. The bill questions the legality of the frequent delegations of the president's power, and asserts that "those who thus regulated coal in their own interest assumed still in their interest to direct the owners of their coal to title to it."

The suit asks that the court establish a commission to settle claims between the owners of coal and the central coal committee of the railroad administration. "The purpose of the suit is to compel the director general and his agents to allow those who buy coal to actually get the coal they have not and paid for. As the matter stands now, it is impossible for any coal man to make a sale to a retailer, a public utility company or to a factory and to guarantee that this coal will be delivered."

K. P. MINSTREL WILL BE STAGED MARCH 18 AND 19

An organization of fifty members of Fidelity Lodge, Knights of Pythias has been effected and under direction of H. E. Stutz of the Columbus Producing Co. is rehearsing nightly in preparation for the big minstrel to be given at the Sixth Street Theatre on Thursday and Friday nights, March 18 and 19. Tickets have been placed on sale and the advance sale gives promise of two packed houses for the event.

The local Pythian Lodge boasts of some of the best home talent in the city and the members promise theatre-goers an evening of splendid entertainment. While the complete cast has not been announced yet, it will be made up of some of the most popular jokers and singers in the city, while the olio will afford the lucky holders of tickets some pleasant surprises.

Everybody enjoys a good minstrel show and the Pythians are leaving nothing undone towards making this, their first effort along this line, a huge success.

Butter (creamery) 2 cents a pound.
Butter (creamery) 5 cents a pound.

A proportionate reduction in wholesale prices was announced simultaneously, eggs dropping 3 cents and lard 2 to 4 cents.

Prevailing prices Saturday on eggs were: retail 52, wholesale 45; butter retail 65 (country and 70 (creamery), and wholesale 62.

Sugar dropped to 15 cents, and will probably come down farther.

Lard sold at retail for 30 cents and at wholesale for 25.

WOODRONE WILL LIVE, DOCTOR DECLARE
The condition of Charles Woodrone, Wilson-av., who has been confined to the city hospital for the past six weeks following an accident at the Eckles mine, near Warwick in which he sustained serious injuries about the lower abdomen and pelvis, was so much improved Saturday evening that physicians in attendance declared he would fully recover. For several days it was believed the young man would die.

RICHESON BURNED SHACK NOT TO CONCEAL HIS CRIME BUT TO MAKE DOUBLY CERTAIN NEPHEW'S DEATH

Murderer of Dave Richeson Says He Knew Only One of Estranged Men Could Live Thru the Night and That He Was In Constant Fear of Death at Nephew's Hands—Expresses Sorrow For the Deed

"I knew I hadn't any chance while he was slamming me around. After Dave went back to bed and had about got laid down good, I just reached up and got the gun that hung on a rack on the wall. I could see in where he was in bed. I peeked around the corner of the kitchen door and raised the gun and pulled the trigger. I turned and walked out, taking the gun with me. After a little bit I went back and saw I had killed him. Then the thought came to me that I must burn him up for I thought the devil had tried to kill me. If I'd been in my right mind I probably wouldn't have done it."

Thus Riley Richeson related to a Tribune and Times-Age reporter Saturday the harrowing details of how he murdered his nephew, David Richeson, in their shack along the canal near Randles' Station last Wednesday morning. When questioned after his hearing at Mayor Tish's office concerning one of the most heinous crimes in the annals of Coshocton-co, Riley Richeson was calm and composed altho he expressed sorrow for the deed he had committed but added that "it just had to be done." He was asked if his motive in setting fire to the shack after killing his nephew was to cover up the crime and replied that his only that was to make sure of finishing the job, indicating that the intense hatred aroused in him had not been satisfied by firing a load of shot into his nephew's brain.

Step by step, the man who now awaits the law's censure, related the story of his association with Dave Richeson. He said that Dave first came to him at Warsaw and wanted him to go "fifty-fifty" in buying the shack along the canal for $100, claiming he had arranged to buy it from Frank Haines, a cousin of Dave. Riley said Dave was usually full when he came to talk to him about the place.

SENATOR LODGE THREATENS TO FORCE FINAL SHOWDOWN ON THE TREATY'S DISPOSITION MONDAY

Idaho Leader of Irreconcilables Warns Administration That Some Sort of Compromise Must Be Reached Over Sunday or He Will Force Senate Into Action On Ratification or Non-Ratification

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 6.—The ninth Lodge reservation passed the senate by a vote of 46 to 25. The senate then took up the tenth reservation relating to armaments.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—Senator Borah, of Idaho, leader of the "irreconcilables," in opposition to the peace treaty, served notice on the floor of the senate this afternoon that unless some compromise was reached by Monday he would himself bring up the reservation on Article Ten and force the senate into action on ratification or non-ratification.

"I have heard that President Wilson has refused to see the senators from Virginia and from North Carolina (Glass and Simmons)," declared Borah. "The time has come when we must come to close grips with this situation."

"I have heard that some of the administration senators are thinking of bolting. They can think it over, over Sunday, but if they do nothing and the Republican side does nothing by that time I will bring up the reservation myself and get a show down."

Unless Senator Simmons of North Carolina, as the emissary of a coalition of senators seeking gratification of the peace treaty, is prepared to submit to the president a definite proposal for a material modification of the Lodge reservation to Article Ten, his prospective visit to the president will be in vain, it was learned today, from white house sources.

The senate adopted by a vote of 55 to 12 an amendment to the ninth Lodge reservation this afternoon. The amendment was fathered by Senator Kellogg, of Minnesota, and provided that the reservation should not apply to prevent the U. S. from bearing its share of the office expenses and official salaries and board by the league of nations.

NEWSPAPERS ARE URGED TO LOWER DEMAND ON PAPER

Heroic Measures to Save Dwindling Supply Are Considered Necessary

NEW YORK, Mar. 6.—Publishers of all classes of newspapers throughout the country are urged in a resolution adopted here today by the board of directors and paper commission of the American Newspaper Publishers' association to make immediately a reduction of ten per cent in consumption of news print paper.

The resolution follows:
"Resolved: That publishers of all classes of newspapers, daily and weekly, be urged to make immediately a reduction of ten per cent in consumption of news print and to request all advertisers, both local and foreign to reduce their space ten per cent during the present emergency."

"In case advertisers will not co-operate to the extent of the suggested reduction, publishers are urged to raise their advertising rates sufficient to bring about the mentioned percentage of reduction."

"Reports of committees in charge of the campaign on co-operation and conservation in the use of news print indicate that an important saving has been effected and that a majority of the newspapers have put into effect practical economies and are cutting size and number of editions, eliminating waste, increasing selling prices and raising advertising rates, but the increased demands for advertising space to an extent interfered with the decrease in the use of news print, compared with 1919, which is required to meet the present situation and to bring consumption of news print within the limits of present mill production capacity."

"The general sentiment of the publishers attending the meeting was that the situation, while serious does not justify government action or the passage of any of the various measures which have been introduced in congress the belief being that the results already achieved, the higher prices for spot paper and the adoption by newspapers generally of the spirit of the resolutions above will finally meet the situation."

"A month ago, the American Newspaper Publishers' association addressed a communication to some 2,500 small newspapers, most of them not members of the association, asking all who were unable to secure news print in rolls to advise the association so that it might endeavor to put them in touch with a source of supply. The measure response to this request, some twenty five in all, may indicate that reports regarding the inability of small newspapers to secure paper have been somewhat exaggerated. The association has been of service to some of the few who have been in distress and hopes to be able to help in the future should deserving cases come to its notice."

"For this purpose the information needed by us is the minimum quantity necessary for balance of 1920, statement of its present supply and its source, tonnage and price, number of pages, circulation and advertising volume at present time as compared with corresponding period of last year."

LOCAL JEWELERS WARNED AGAINST PAIR OF CROOKS

Coshocton jewelers and police have been notified by the Pinkerton Detective Agency, Detroit, to be on the look out for two crook thieves, aged about 24 and 27, who wear Fedora hats and dark overcoats and might pass as two salesmen.

They bring into a jewelry store a pair of gold link cuff buttons with the diamond settings removed and ask prices for settings. They ask to see larger diamonds or suggest a lavaliere or other article of jewelry made up. They look at scarf pins, bracelets, etc. One detaches the jeweler's attention and the other conceals some article. They both do a lot of talking and in the confusion walk out before the jeweler realizes that anything has been stolen. A reward of $100 for their arrest is offered by the Jewelers Security Alliance of America.

BRITISH LABOR DEMANDS AGAIN TO BE VOICED

Unprecedented Increases in Wages Will Follow Soaring Prices

PRICES GOING HIGHER Labor Congress to Meet Will Convene at London Next Thursday

LONDON, March, 6.—The demands for nationalization of coal mines and increased wages, increased wages, industrial reforms in general—will again be brot sharply before the public when the trade union congress convenes next Thursday.

"The mad race of prices and wages has entered upon another lap at a speed which promises to be more furious than ever," says the Daily Express. "The official announcement that food prices are now 135 per cent above the pre war, and that the general living costs including food, clothing, fuel and light, show an increase of 120 per cent is to be followed by perhaps the greatest series of wage demands ever known in this country."

According to the Daily Express the claims already formulated by labor and those about to be put forward will add about $15,000,000 weekly to industry's wage payments. If these wage demands are met, the Daily Express warns, the public must expect prices to increase correspondingly.

Stop and think a minute—

What, if in the crowded thoroughfares an accident should happen—and with the ever increasing number of automobiles, accidents are inevitable.

If you should collide with some other car or vice versa.

If some one should carelessly step in front of your car and you should accidentally hurt and be liable to him for large damages?

If a fire should occur in your garage or while you are driving your machine?

If some sneaking thief should steal your car?

If any of these things should happen—and they do happen every day—then where are the joyful rides of your anticipation?

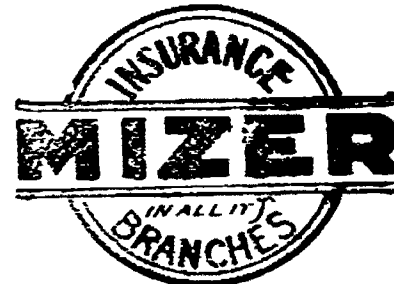

When loss to YOU by all these possible happenings can be covered for only a few dollars by Insurance—

Isn't it foolish to take a chance?

The man who drives an uninsured Automobile is doing an injustice not only to himself but to the occupants of his car and to every other car on the streets.

If you don't already carry insurance on your car, get into communication QUICKLY with

"A year ago last fall" Riley continued "Dave said he was going to work for Tom Norman the next day and then quit for the year and the following day I was to meet him at the place where Roy Speaks and I were bathing at Warsaw and we were to go down to see Haines and fix it up. When I came home Dave was not there. He talked with his mother the next morning and then he left. He didn't live up to his agreement.

"Quite a while later he came back and wanted me to move down to the shack early that spring. He said he would enter into the deal later as he didn't want his wife to come in for a share of the property. Well it went on quite awhile and directly it came out his mother had bot the place. They had dealt me out.

"Later I agreed to go down and take charge of the place and I moved there the latter part of last May. I raised a big garden and had plenty of potatoes, beans, tomatoes and other kinds of vegetables. Dave came there last October, the week before the fair. He had a little money and said he'd do his share. We had to buy bread, coffee, sugar and things of that kind. I had the rest. He bot a little stuff for awhile but in about a month he said he was broke and since then it all fell on me. He paid half on a dressed hog late in the fall. He went to Warsaw one day to get some money from his mother. He said she only had a dollar and he got that.

"We didn't quarrel much except one time when he got off about a cook-stove. I told him I knew what was the matter with it, that it was warped. He got mad. Last Tuesday I came home and got two dozen eggs and took them to the store and sold them to get some bread and other stuff. I met Dave as I was going back home. I went home and had supper about ready when he came home about 5 o'clock. He washed and asked if I got any tobacco. I told him I didn't know he wanted any. He said it was a lie and that I did know.

"He commenced to abuse me, too, and he hit me. Then he caught me by the hair and pulled me around the room. He damned me that he was going to kill me. He struck me in the breast and my head would strike the wall. He said he wasn't going to kill me now but would do it yet that night.

"About 9 or 10 o'clock we both went to bed. He went first. I got to ailing so bad I got up. I took some medicine for my stomach and laid down again. Dave waked up and walked around the foot of the bed past me and went out into the kitchen. I couldn't stay in bed. I was afraid to ask him to do anything for me. I got up and went in where he was and was bathing myself with liniment. He went back to bed but I hardly think he could have been asleep as he hadn't been there long enough."

Then Riley related the awful climax to the trouble, pausing to ask whether his statement of the killing might have any influence on his case in court.

He still complains of his rheumatism and stomach trouble and the effects of the beating given him by Dave. He was taken to Dr. McClain's office Saturday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Barr for treatment.

Coroner Cone's finding as to the manner in which Dave Richeson met his death will be filed at the county clerk's office in a few days.

Steels that make a Maxwell Alert

More miles per gallon
More miles on tires

That quick, sympathetic action you get when you call on a Maxwell to pass the car ahead, to flatten out a hill, to escape from the crowd in traffic has a story.

It's a story of steels.

You can analyze a Maxwell pound for pound with any car built and you will find it quite the equal in fine steels.

A Maxwell had to be made of fine steels. There was no other way.

Because it was built to deliver economic transportation. That meant no superfluous weight. It meant light weight.

But it also meant excessive strength.

Because a rare combination of strength with lightness had to be provided in its steels.

Any metallurgist will tell you that the only answer was the very finest of steels.

They never burden the Maxwell engine, so when you call for results you get them in a Maxwell.

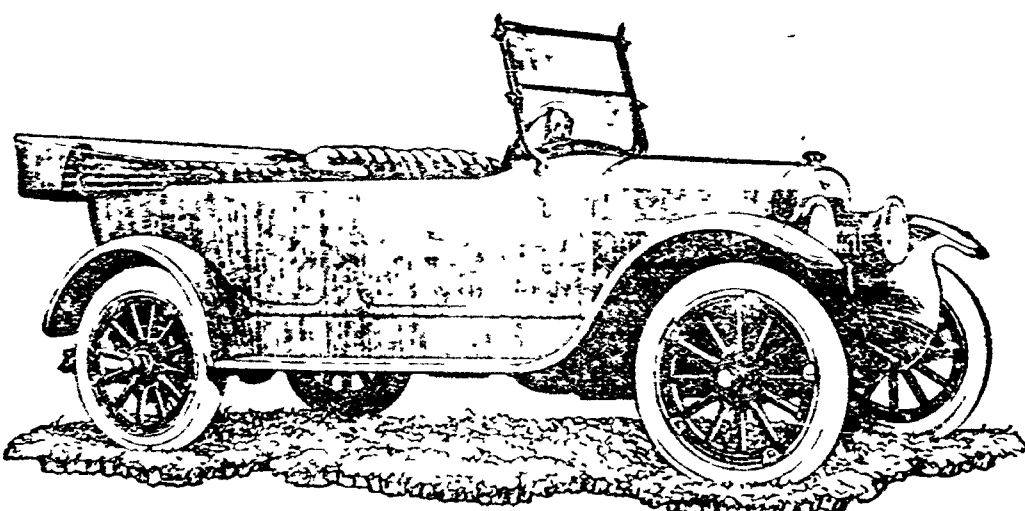

That's one of many reasons why the friendly drift towards Maxwell continues to increase day by day.

Now there are nearly 400,000 of them on the roads of the world.

The demand so far exceeds the supply that only 60% of those who have set their minds on a Maxwell can succeed in possessing one this year.

of another blizzard with many streets completely blocked by huge drifts of snow that were piled up by a 55 mile per hour wind. Late blizzard which bore down upon the city from the west was heralded by heavy rain and a half of rain before the precipitation turned to sleet and hail and finally to snow. Traffic was completely paralyzed through the whole metropolitan area and some of the suburban railway lines reported the worst conditions of the winter. Heavy damage was done by the high wind through the city. The wind blew with terrific velocity off the Atlantic coast and special precautions were taken by life saving stations to aid vessels in distress. The thermometer dropped from 45 to 30 degrees above zero within a few hours.

SENATOR LODGE

mons. of North Carolina, as the emissary of a coalition of Republican "mild reservationists," and administration senators seeking ratification was anxiously awaited on all sides in the treaty fight.

Hitchcock and his dwindling forces were as much in the dark as to the president's purpose as were those Republican senators who predicted his attitude toward Article X of the League of Nations covenant.

It was expressed by some senators as to whether the president will receive Simmons with the "no" proposals for a compromise on Article X. Others expressed the belief that none of the proposals would prove acceptable to the president.

EARLE'S HYPO-COD STOPPED HIS COLD AND BUILT HIM UP

"I Had Such an Awful Cold and Cough I could Hardly Breathe. Was All-in"

COULD NOT SLEEP KIDNEYS WEAK TOO

"The new and wonderful medicine they call Earle's Hypo-Cod is alright," declared a man whose name and address follow.

"I had such an awful cold I would cough and bark half the night and could not sleep. My appetite gave out on me and I was nearly down and out. I could hardly breathe my lungs hurt so bad at times and I was having a bad time with my kidneys too. Would have to get up seven or eight times in the night and suffered with severe pains and burning sensations. All these troubles are gone now, however, and I'm praising Earle's Hypo-Cod to the sky. It does the work of getting around that fact, I breathe freely now. My lungs don't hurt. My sleep is peaceful as you please and I feel my appetite is much better also. It helped me wonderfully and there is no reason why it shouldn't because the ingredients tell anybody who can read that it is the real thing," continued Mr. J. K. Leake, 62 Souders Ave., Columbus, Ohio, and a well known carpenter with the Latham Contracting Company of that city.

If weak, full of cold, catarrh or bronchial troubles, or feeling like a man above go right down to the drug store for a large bottle of Earle's Hypo-Cod which has received the endorsement of doctors, druggists, chemists, nurses, and thousands of users. Read the formula on bottle.

Earle's Hypo-Cod is sold here by all good druggists and the leading druggists in all nearby towns. Price $1.25 plus 5c war tax.

tion of the president's famous Jackson Day message, in which he urged the treaty may be made a campaign issue was anticipated by many.

If Simmons succeeds in seeing the president and finds him opposed to modifying Lodge reservations, in compliance with his wishes, it was proposed that Simmons ask his assent to the adoption by congress of a resolution for the settlement of peace by declaring the technical state of war between the United States and Germany at an end.

Simmons was still waiting today to hear from the white house as to whether he was to see the president. Both Hitchcock and Joseph P. Tumulty, the president's secretary, persisted in their refusal to make Hitchcock's letter public. Hitchcock was incensed because the existence of the letter had become generally known.

The Republican leaders are equally adamant in their refusal to go further than to consent to minor changes in the phrasing of the reservation which will not alter the principle involved in it.

They declared they saw no promise of early ratification in the proposal for a compromise Simmons was to submit to the president, and they were just as hopeless of keeping the treaty out of the campaign as they were before Senator Hitchcock's letter asking the president to see Simmons was dispatched.

Hitchcock was still waiting today to receive a reply from the president, altho the letter was sent four days ago. Simmons had not yet heard whether he is to see the president or not.

"FLO, FLO"

A REAL SHOW AT THE 6TH ST.
THEATRE MONDAY NIGHT SAYS
THE FRANKFORD, IND. TIMES

"Flo Flo" a musical comedy of the old school took the large audience at the Blinn last night back to the good old days and entertained them once again with the every popular musical satire comedy show.

"Flo Flo" was declared by many to be one of the best productions staged here this winter. The costumes and scenery probably were the most elaborate seen here in months. The cast as a whole was as good as the one which stayed in Chicago for several months last fall.

Aloysius Pink and Kid Maud are the life of the show. They act together in every scene and imitate in a most laughable manner scenes which have gone before. The music contains many songs which are well known and the lines contains the original of several jokes which have become classic.

The play concerns Mosher & Simpson, who operate a bridge shop in New York. They have a large contract for the trousseau of Angelina Stokes, whose mother is forcing her into a marriage with nobility at the sacrifice of love. The models in the bride shop display many of the numerous articles of apparel which will constitute the wedding outfit of Angelina. The plot is the regulation musical plot which nevertheless contains many amusing situations. Complications arise at every turn but at the end all is happy.
